DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on February 28, 2007 has been entered.

The Examiner acknowledges that claims 1 & 2 were canceled and new claims 6-10 were added. Therefore, claims 6-10 are currently pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 6-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Liang et al. (U.S. Patent Application Publication No. 2003/0016318).

Examiner Note: The new claims appear to be claiming the same limitations as previous recitations of independent claim 1, and thus, the previous actions detailed explanations are incorporated herein. Especially the explanation in the previous actions regarding the claimed image display and claimed gaming device having the image display, in which the Examiner pointed out the intended use for the image display is in a gaming machine if so desired. Thus, for patentability, claims 6 & 8 simplify to the limitations of the display unit.

Claims 6 & 8: Liang et al. disclose the same invention including a display unit having a plurality of pixels arranged in a matrix extending in an x direction and a y direction perpendicular to the x direction to form an xy plane (figure 3 or 5), each pixel including a first pixel unit and a second pixel unit disposed adjacent to the first pixel unit (figure 3, see a single pixel unit is made up of two sub-pixels or what is considered a first pixel unit and second pixel unit adjacent to the first pixel unit; see a similar layout in figure 5), each one of the first and second pixels units having a first pixel electrode operative to display a first color and a second pixel electrode operative to display a second color different from the first color with the first and second pixel electrodes being arranged in a serial manner relative to each other in an identical manner for each pixel (clearly seen in figure 3 or 5, where in figure 3 three pixel electrodes are used for the three colors of each pixel unit, and figure 5 two pixel electrodes are used for the two colors of each pixel unit; also note the electrodes are arranged in a serial manner across and an identical manner for each pixel), wherein, when at least one pixel is emerged, the same-color pixel electrodes of the at least one pixel are emerged simultaneously (paragraphs 0017 & 0020-0021).

Claims 7 & 9: Liang et al. disclose the pixels are arranged in a matrix in an “xy plane”, and as seen in figures 3 or 5, the pixel electrodes of the same color are arranged in the y direction and the same pattern is continuously arranged in the x direction to form a stripe (figures 3 or 5).

Claim 10: Liang et al. disclose a possible intended use of the pixeling method is in a “highly transmissive” liquid crystal display (paragraph 0015; note “on a game board” is considered intended use).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 6-10 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

The previous rejection with respect to claims 1 & 2 is withdrawn due to claims 1 & 2 being canceled. A new rejection applying the same prior art, however, in a 35 U.S.C. 102 rejection is shown above with respect to claims 6-10. The Examiner notes, that there appears to be no difference in the claimed limitations with respect to the original claims and past claim amendments, where the present claims appear to be reciting the "same" thing in different wording. The claims still require a pixel having pixel units, where the pixel units have multiple pixel electrodes corresponding to respective colors, and the colors or electrodes for any color across the pixel units are lit simultaneously. Liang et al. disclose each and every limitation. See above rejections.
